A. [REDACTED] reported for duty with N/CH on 29 March 1956.

25X1A9a

B. [REDACTED] g of N/P transferred at the end of March to another CIA component on indefinite loan.

III. Problems

A. In recent months there have been steadily increasing demands on the Petroleum Branch to answer questions and fulfill requirements involving the free world petroleum industry. The Petroleum Branch does not have an assigned responsibility for petroleum intelligence in the free world. Nevertheless, the Branch has attempted to meet the demands laid upon it, and will continue to do so. However, a two-fold problem is presented as follows:

1. The Petroleum Branch lacks adequate authority to provide petroleum intelligence on the free world.
2. The Petroleum Branch lacks the capabilities to provide prompt free world petroleum intelligence.
